Saturday, March 14, 2015, 10 am - 4pm

Booths, Panelists & Sponsors needed.

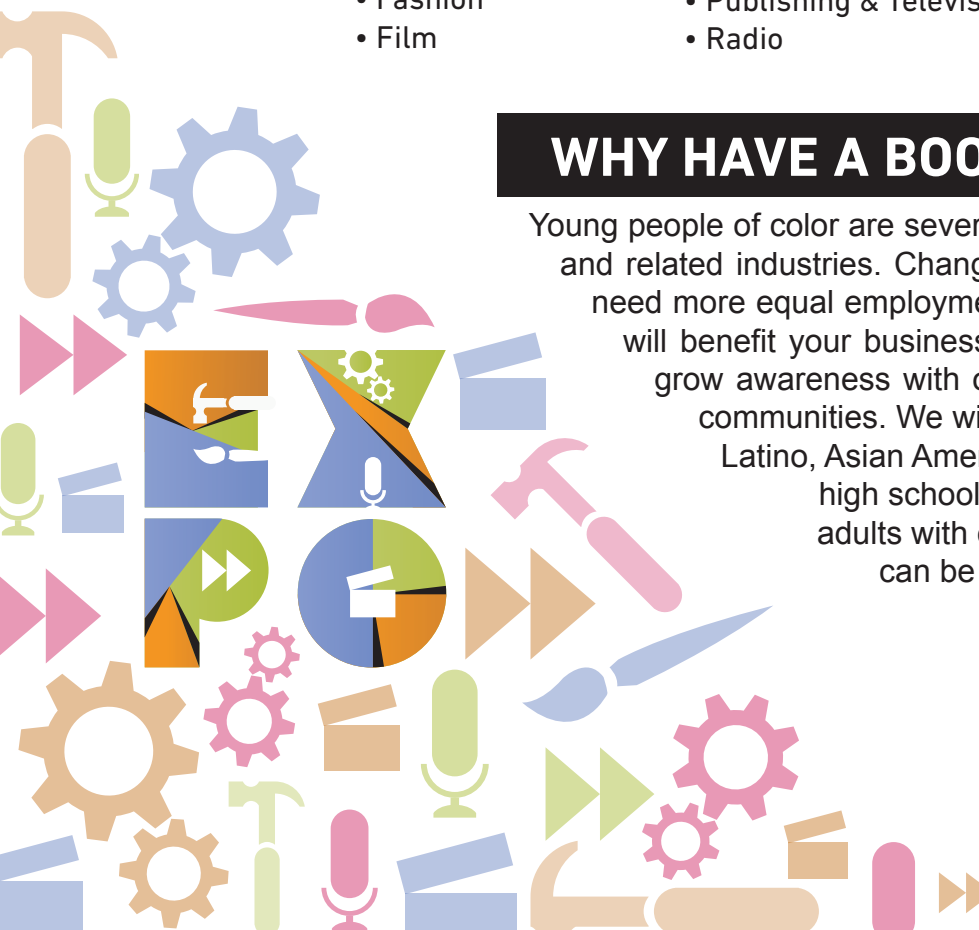

MEDIAARTS Center San Diego (MACSD) in partnership with the Jacobs Center for Neighborhood Innovation, (JNCI) are presenting the 22nd Annual San Diego Film Festival inaugural Creative Careers Expo. This initiative will help San Diego's diverse population of high school youth and young adults to build awareness, essential skills and opportunities for them within the many creative industries that are crucial to the 21st Century

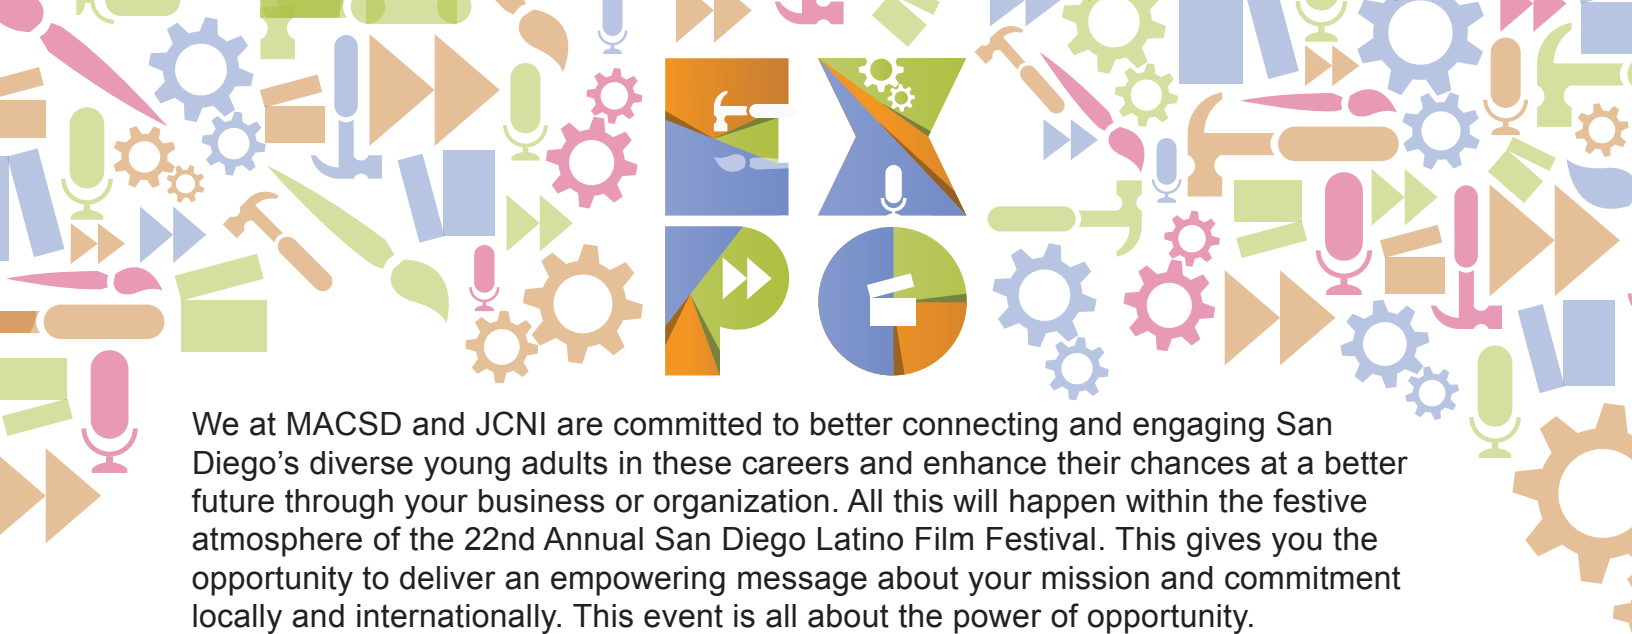

The Expo will spotlight many opportunities with selected companies, organizations, government agencies, and educational institutions in the following categories:

- Advertising
- Architecture
- Crafts
- Design
- Fashion
- Film
- Video and Photography
- Software
- Computer Games & Electronic Publishing
- Music, Visual, Performing Arts
- Publishing & Television
- Radio

WHY HAVE A BOOTH AT THIS EVENT?

Young people of color are severely underrepresented in technology and related industries. Changing this means these communities need more equal employment opportunities. Being in our expo will benefit your business or organization greatly as we will grow awareness with our region's diverse population and communities. We will, more importantly actively engage Latino, Asian American, refugee and African American high school youth, college students and young adults with opportunities and resources so they can be involved and impactful to your field.

We at MACSD and JCNi are committed to better connecting and engaging San Diego's diverse young adults in these careers and enhance their chances at a better future through your business or organization. All this will happen within the festive atmosphere of the 22nd Annual San Diego Latino Film Festival. This gives you the opportunity to deliver an empowering message about your mission and commitment locally and internationally. This event is all about the power of opportunity.

HOW DO YOU PARTICIPATE?

You may reserve a booth for information and meeting prospects, or, you may be an Expo Sponsor, further enhancing your outreach opportunities not only at the expo, including a larger exhibit space, and increasing your outreach throughout the festival and into more communities. Please email phil@mediaartscenter.org if interested in a stronger expo partnership
